

DO IT YOURSELF, OR BRING SOMEONE IN

Home Organization Assessment

Both are valid. The question is which one your specific situation calls for, and the honest answer usually turns on time and decisions rather than skill.

DOING IT YOURSELF WORKS WHEN

- | | |
|--|---------------------------------------|
| ■ You have consecutive time, not scattered hours | ■ One or two rooms, not a whole house |
| ■ The decisions are yours alone to make | ■ You have done it before and it held |

BRING SOMEONE IN WHEN

- | | |
|--|--|
| ■ You have started three times and stopped three times | ■ There is a deadline, a move, or an event |
| ■ The volume is beyond what a weekend can touch | ■ The house has to keep working while it happens |
| ■ Decisions involve someone else's belongings | |

WHAT YOU ARE ACTUALLY BUYING

- | | |
|--|---|
| ■ Not tidiness, which reverts | ■ Someone to hold the decisions so you only make them |
| ■ A structure that survives a bad week | ■ Systems documented for whoever else uses the house |

QUESTIONS TO ASK ANYONE YOU HIRE

- | | |
|--|--|
| ■ What happens after you leave | ■ Do you train the people who will maintain it |
| ■ Do you document the system, and in which languages | ■ What do you do when something stops working |

We build these systems for you.

Most people know which area is weakest. What they lack is the two uninterrupted weeks it takes to fix it. That is the part we do: we build it, document it in English and Spanish, train the people who use it, and stay on to adjust it.
