

EVERYTHING THE HOUSE NEEDS, IN ONE PLACE

Household Binder Template

A binder is only useful if it is current. Build it thin, keep it reachable, and update at the moment something changes.

SECTIONS, IN THIS ORDER

- | | |
|--|---------------------------------------|
| ■ Emergency: shutoffs, contacts, medical | ■ Routines and standards |
| ■ Vendors: name, number, who may enter | ■ Schedules and maintenance intervals |
| ■ Appliances: model, purchase, warranty | ■ School, medical, insurance |

EMERGENCY PAGE, FIRST PAGE

- | | |
|---|----------------------------------|
| ■ Water shutoff location and photograph | ■ Who to call first, in order |
| ■ Breaker panel location, labelled | ■ Alarm codes and who holds them |
| ■ Gas valve location | |

KEEPING IT CURRENT

- | | |
|---|---|
| ■ Update at the moment of change, not on a schedule | ■ Review twice a year, briefly |
| ■ One person owns it, everyone can read it | ■ Anything a year stale gets removed, not corrected |

PAPER OR DIGITAL

- | | |
|---|---|
| ■ Paper survives a power cut and a dead phone | ■ Serious households keep both, with paper for emergencies only |
| ■ Digital survives a fire and a move | |

We build these systems for you.

Most people know which area is weakest. What they lack is the two uninterrupted weeks it takes to fix it. That is the part we do: we build it, document it in English and Spanish, train the people who use it, and stay on to adjust it.

Book a consultation at sortandplace.com