

SETTLED, NOT LIVING OUT OF BOXES

The Unpacking Timeline

The last ten percent of an unpack drags on for months when it has no deadline. Give each stage one.

FIRST TWO HOURS

- | | |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| ■ Beds assembled and made | ■ Kettle, mugs, something to eat |
| ■ One bathroom fully working | ■ Wifi on |

FIRST TWO DAYS

- | | |
|--|---|
| ■ Kitchen fully functional, even if imperfectly arranged | ■ Anything fragile unwrapped and checked for damage |
| ■ Clothes accessible, not necessarily put away | |

FIRST TWO WEEKS

- | | |
|--|-------------------------------------|
| ■ Decide where things live before filling anything | ■ Flat-pack the cardboard as you go |
| ■ Empty boxes leave the house the day they empty | |

THE LAST TEN PERCENT

- Set a date. Anything unopened by then gets donated unopened.
- Boxes still sealed after a month are answering a question for you

YOUR DONATION DATE

Pick the date. Anything still boxed goes, unopened.

We build these systems for you.

Most people know which area is weakest. What they lack is the two uninterrupted weeks it takes to fix it. That is the part we do: we build it, document it in English and Spanish, train the people who use it, and stay on to adjust it.
